Dear Parents and Guardians,

We are pleased to announce an exciting new partnership between Burbank Community Day School and MOSAIC (Mentoring to Overcome Struggles and Inspire Courage). MOSAIC is a community service learning program based at California State University of Northridge (CSUN), that links university-student mentors with youth attending continuation and alternative high schools. MOSAIC serves as an opportunity for students to have additional support in achieving personal and academic success. This school-based mentoring program has been designed to provide guidance to youth attending continuation and alternative high school obtain a high school diploma and be workforce competent.

The MOSAIC Mentors are passionate about making a difference in our community. They apply a unique mentoring approach that helps students build healthy connections throughout their educational and personal experiences. MOSAIC Mentors focus on creating a road map to higher education through goal attainment, while establishing an organic mentor-mentee connection. The mentor-mentee relationship takes place during school hours and will not require additional hours from students or impact their day-to-day learning. Schools who have partnered up with MOSAIC have experienced an improvement in attendance as well as an increase in graduation rates.

We are looking forward to the productive partnership between BCDS and MOSAIC.
